Dear Mark

Election under section 68AAF Treasury Laws Amendment (Putting Members' Interests First) Act 2019 - Dangerous Occupation Exception

FSS Trustee Corporation wish to notify APRA that members of the First State Superannuation Scheme will be covered under the Dangerous Occupation Exception as provided for by section 68AAF of the Treasury Laws Amendment (Putting Members Interest First) Act 2019.

Members who hold the following Product, and whom are employed in one of the below listed Dangerous Occupations, are covered by this dangerous occupation exception.

Product

First State Super MySuper Lifecycle - Authorisation Number 53 226 460 365 073

Dangerous Occupations

- Sworn Police Officers employed by the New South Wales Police Force;
- Ambulance Officers employed by the Ambulance Service of New South Wales.

This election is in force from the date we have provided it to you, being 1 November 2019. It remains in force until such time as we notify you, in writing, that it is withdrawn or amended.

We note that the implementation of the Putting Members Interest First legislation may have impacts on the terms and conditions under the policy and the premiums for members that will apply from 1 April 2020. We will therefore be considering the impact of these changes on the exception for the above occupations as part of assessing these changes. If this analysis results in First State Super no longer considering an exception is in the best interests of members we will notify APRA prior to 1 April 2020.

Yours sincerely
