About your tax file number
 Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, the trustee is authorised to collect, use and disclose your TFN. The trustee may disclose your TFN to another superannuation provider when your benefits are being transferred, unless you write to your super fund and ask the trustee not to disclose your TFN to any other trustee. It is not compulsory to provide your TFN but if you don't, you may pay additional tax on your contributions and benefit payments, and some contributions may not be accepted. If you do not provide your TFN and the fund you are transferring from cannot verify your details with the Australian Tax Office, then you may be required to provide proof of identity to the fund you are transferring from.
